

Pete Johnson | Large Land Advisor

Pete Johnson brings more than 30 years of experience brokering large tracts of land and has earned a reputation for exceptional service and product knowledge. His extensive real estate expertise spans rural land, ranches, residential, commercial, construction, properties bordering US Forest Service land, and real estate development and management. Based out of the Scottsdale office, Pete focuses exclusively with large land brokerage throughout the United States.

Prior to joining Land Advisors Organization, Pete founded Hermitage Land Company located in Telluride, Colorado. Since inception in 1988, he has been actively working with significant acreage that often requires a complex understanding of access, title, water, mineral, scenic value, conservation easements, grazing and wildlife.

Pete has a business degree from the University of Colorado with an emphasis in Real Estate and International Business. He currently holds active real estate brokerage licenses in Arizona, California and Colorado and is a member of the Colorado Board of Realtors as well as Urban Land Institute.
