

Rick Hildreth | Senior Advisor

Senior Advisor Rick Hildreth focuses exclusively on land and investment acquisitions in the Las Vegas metropolitan area. During more than 20 years in real estate, Rick has acquired and disposed of over $500 million in land assets in Nevada.

Rick's experience and knowledge of the Las Vegas market compliments his proven abilities for site acquisitions, dispositions and the marketing and sale of real estate. As one of the top land brokers in Nevada, Rick continually focuses on maintaining long-term relationships with public home builders, commercial developers, multi-family developers, investors and speculators.

Before joining Land Advisors, Rick was vice president of land acquisition for Centex Homes, one of the nation's top publicly traded homebuilders, and director of land acquisitions and strategic planning for Engle Homes.

Rick earned a bachelor of arts degree in business management from the University of Kentucky.
